NATURAL PLANTERS AND FINISHES

Livingreen Design have an extensive range of planters and all of these planters are available in natural finishes. Each planter is manufactured by our highly skilled workforce and each planter is created with the specialist finish that you have requested. The natural finishes make the planters look and feel like the real material; you can have a corten steel planter for the fraction of the price and minus the extensive weight.

Our ceramic style range takes the advantages of advanced composites to the maximum. This collection features the handmade look, feel and texture of real ceramics and terracotta planters, but with none of the disadvantages. Lightweight, waterproof, frostproof, UV stable, almost unbreakable and available in any colour or finish; now you can specify ceramics anywhere.
